

Name
Branko Carvic

Department of Architecture and Planning at the Faculty of Engineering and Technology, University of Botswana

Is Associate Professor in the Department of Architecture and Planning at the Faculty of Engineering and Technology, University of Botswana.

He gained his Ph.D., M.Sc. and B.Sc. degrees in geography and spatial planning from the University of Belgrade.

He has been involved in professional practice, research, management, government service and academia since 1980. Before joining the University of Botswana in 1997, he served on the Board of directors in Yugoslav Institute of Town Planning and Housing (YUGINUS), as an assistant professor at University of Belgrade (Faculty of Geography and Faculty of Architecture), as director of GISDATA Belgrade, and as a senior urban planner in the Department of Town and Regional Planning, Ministry of Lands, Housing and Environment of the Republic of Botswana. During period 1997-2005 he was a visiting research fellow at the Institute of Architecture and Urban Planning of Serbia (IAUS).

As geographer and chartered town planner with the Royal Town Planning Institute (RTPI), he devoted his professional, research and teaching interest around issues of spatial planning and design, environmental land use planning, development and management, applied geography, institutional and organizational aspects of GIS, focusing on selected countries of Southern Africa and Western Balkans.